The licensed font is hereinafter referred to as the "Font". Designer Slava Antipov is hereinafter referred to as the "Designer". The user to whom the license is assigned is hereinafter referred to as the "Licensee".

This license automatically enters into force after payment or installation of the font on a computer or any other equipment.

1. The Licensee has the right to use the font for personal and commercial purposes, to create images on any media, on websites, printed publications, branded products, photographs, videos and other media where the font will be presented as an image (for example, jpg, eps, svg and similar formats).
2. TV companies and animation studios (mass media) must conclude a separate contract for an extended non-exclusive license allowing the use of fonts in their materials (audiovisual products).
3. When transferring files (layouts) to the client or third parties, the Licensee has no right to transfer the font installation file (otf, tff). If the client plans to type text in mockups on his own in the future, he will need to purchase a separate license. It is necessary to contact the font designer at: antipslava.design@gmail.com
4. It is prohibited to transfer the font installation file (otf, tff) to third parties, printing houses or to other productions. Before transferring files containing a font, the typed text must be translated into "curves".
5. It is prohibited to use the font in any applications, software and hardware products. This requires an extended license. It is necessary to contact the font designer at: antipslava.design@gmail.com

6. It is prohibited to convert a font to a web font (eot, woff, woff2) and use it as a typeset text on the site (using the @font-face selector). To buy a web license, send an email to antipslava.design@gmail.com. In the title, specify the font name, and in the message list the font styles for which you want to purchase a web license.

7. It is prohibited to create copies or analogues based on the font for personal use or further distribution.

8. It is prohibited to modify, rename, change the sign composition, rearrange or otherwise affect the font (otf, ttf).

9. It is prohibited to distribute and make publicly available font files. The Licensee has no right to place, install and use files on computers, mobile devices, servers, web servers and websites of third parties, place them on the internet, resell, lend, lease or transfer to third parties.

10. The font and related materials are protected by copyright and contain confidential information and trade secrets related to the designer who released the font. Unauthorized copying, modification is strictly prohibited. You can be prosecuted for any violation of copyright intellectual property due to non-compliance with this agreement.

11. The font may be periodically updated by the designer. The Licensee is not obliged to make a repeat payment to receive the updated version. If you have any questions with the update, please contact the font designer at:
antipslava.design@gmail.com

Designer's responsibility and limited warranty.

Font and Font software are supplied without any explicit or implied obligations on the part of the Licensor regarding its consumer characteristics and the ability to achieve any goals by using it. No commercial guarantees or warranties of fitness for any particular use are given. Under no circumstances shall the Licensor be liable for any loss or damage caused by the use or inability to use font and font software, or the provision or non-provision of support services related to their use.

The font is checked for defects or errors. The font works in popular graphic editors or standard programs, in Windows or MacOS operating systems.

The installation file (.ttf, .otf) is covered by the designer's warranty for a period of fourteen (14) days from the date of purchase. The Licensee has the right to demand the elimination of defects for this, it is necessary to contact the font designer at:
